ARRIVE IN RICHMOND.

Good Roads Scouts Will Reach Washington Wednesday. Richmond, Va., June 21.-Running

Steamer and Oldsmobile scout cars in the New York Herald-Atlanta Journal good roads endurance test entered Richmond to-night. They made 160 miles in N. C. At Petersburg a big crowd gave the good roads gospel a strong indorse-ment. At the Jefferson Hotel to-night an informal dinner was given to the Brought East for the Race, but scouting party. Mayor Richardson, of Richmond, with a party of friends, ran down to meet the scouts at Petersburg.

V. Powers, the crack Western Jockey, was brough there especially to ride Harrigan, a colt that had never been regarded as more than a good sprinter. Powers was instructed to take Harrigan, to the front at the start and stay there as long as possible. The boy obeyed his orders to the letter.

Harrigan cut out a smoking pace to the head of the stretch, where he blew up.

That is all. I believe he found that all were so inextricably interwoven as to prevent the separating the good from Bureau aggregation at the hands of the Congressionals, who trimmed them by a wide margin. Manager Robbin's bunch as were so inextricably interwoven as to prevent the separating the good from the bad.
